HORIZONS 1983

St. Joseph's College
Patchogue, New York

Our lives are shaped by many forces, some as strong as ocean waves, others as gentle as evening sea breezes. We have dwelled on our island, allowing ourselves to be molded by the nourishing tides, for a time that we will long remember. Here, we were given space to run and explore, shelter through the stormy times, and hope for always.

Each of us came to this island empty and alone, but we leave with a bond to each other which cannot be diminished by time or physical distance. Now we will travel that open shoreline, better because of our island stronghold, cherishing the setting sun on the horizon, looking forward with joy and wonder to the daybreaks ahead.

There are shore lengths
of untreated opportunities waiting to be explored . . .

There are all kinds of experiences,
Seas of friendships and acquaintances, oceans of untapped knowledge . . .

And as we explore the beaches of life we have lingered for four years, searching for friendship, knowledge, and opportunity.

As surely as a sea breeze shifts the sands of our beaches, so the passing of time shifts the experience of our lives. We can be blown out to sea as quickly as a feather in a harsh wind. But, there has been a beacon in the darkness for us, whose warm heart, friendly wit, enlightened mind, and deep spirit have called us back to land. She came in the summer of 1979, only a few months before our Freshman year, and has grown with us for the past four years. She allowed the sands to shift enough to make room for the new students, but not so much that we became unrecognizable as a class. From her work in the library, to her presence at a party, she has taught us to resist the light breezes, to bend with the fierce winds, and to keep a firm grip so as not to be swept away completely. Her light has never once gone out, or even faded. Her presence among us has only changed by becoming stronger.

She has given us her light, and she has become an everlasting part of us. Winds will blow again, and time will always pass, but within our hearts will be one constant light—the gift of our friend, Sister Agnes Meagher. This yearbook is a reflection on her light.

“One should lie empty and choiceless as a beach,
waiting for a gift
from the sea.”

—Anne Morrow Lindbergh

Administration and Faculty

Throughout our days of island life, we have needed guidance and reassurance. Crashing waves and subtle under-tows could have overwhelmed us had we not had a strong foundation on which to lean. Rocks of invigoration, always upholding, encouraging, and standing firm, have helped to guide us along the open beach.

"I hope there's one for everybody!"

The Graduates

Now we are leaving our island, where we have been safe. As we go, we look out to the new horizons ahead, and realize that we have gained brightness and intensity during our years here. We can go out on our own with confidence, always knowing that we have a permanent home on the island where we were nurtured.

We, the graduating class of 1983, have many fond memories of our time here at St. Joseph's. There are hopes and wishes that we all have, for ourselves, for each other, and for the people remaining here who are so dear to us. As a token remembrance of these wishes, we humbly present our Last Will and Testament, a collection of our thoughts as we pass on to our own individual lives.

I, Gabriella M. Alonso, leave to my friends who are also graduating the wish that all your dreams and goals be attained... to Bill Bengston, I leave one Master's Degree in Sociology from the University of Vermont... to all my friends in Circle-K, you are terrific!

The Events

Amidst the everyday rhythms of the time, there came bursts of dramatic color and excitement. Memorable moments, outstanding cause of their originality, their sentiment, or their sheer fun, will remain as indelible in our minds as soft crystalline sunsets.

Beginning a New Year

"Welcome to St. Joe's!"

"Here she comes now—Shhh!"

Orientation

"These Buds aren't for you—they're for us!!"

"Sorry, Deb, but I lost to Frank at Pac-Man, and you were the prize."

Business as usual in the Rat.

For just a dollar a month, you can send these boys to summer camp.

"Really, Dean, can't you find a cue stick?"

Opening of the "Rat"

Halloween

Looking for a chic shiek, Donna?

King Neptune and his prize catch.

"C'mon, Karen, put the pin away!"

"They asked me to be school mascot."

"You take that picture and I'll flatten you into a pancake!"

Miss Schaefer 1982:
"No, I won't settle for a Miller!"

Summer Isn't Over Yet Party

"I really can't swim, but the hat fits."

Yearbook staff incognito?

"Wanna go swimming with us!?"

If this is "Beach Party," where are Annette and Frankie?

"There's never a bartender around after a hard day of ropin' steer!"

"Hey, Paul—is that a beard, or a strap to hold your hat on?"

Barn Dance

"He ain't heavy, he's my brother."

"They make that look so easy."

"El Exigente knows when the time is ripe."

"I'll get the ball, you get me!"

Student-Faculty Volleyball Game

Stupor Stars

Togetherness

"Did you ask us if we wanted any burgers?"

I could get used to going around with you."

Vanities

"Ha! I get to take the white purse tonight!"

"Mom always did like you best."

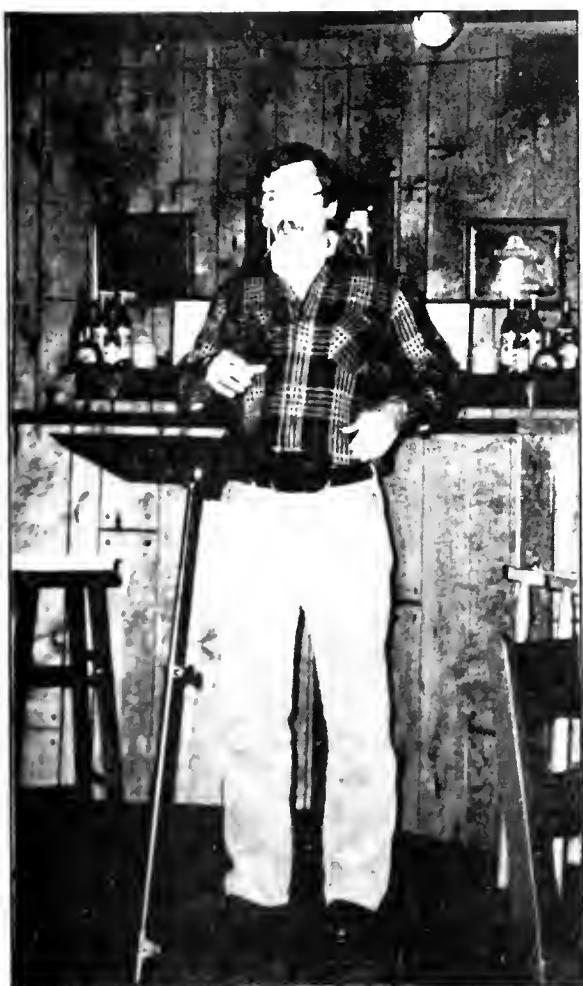

It's the Kathy Sue Whitehead Show!"

"Bubble, bubble, toil and trouble!"

"Life insurance . . . it's the only way to go."

"Some party! Where did everybody go?!"

"Contrary to rumor, these students do not bite."

Poetry Night

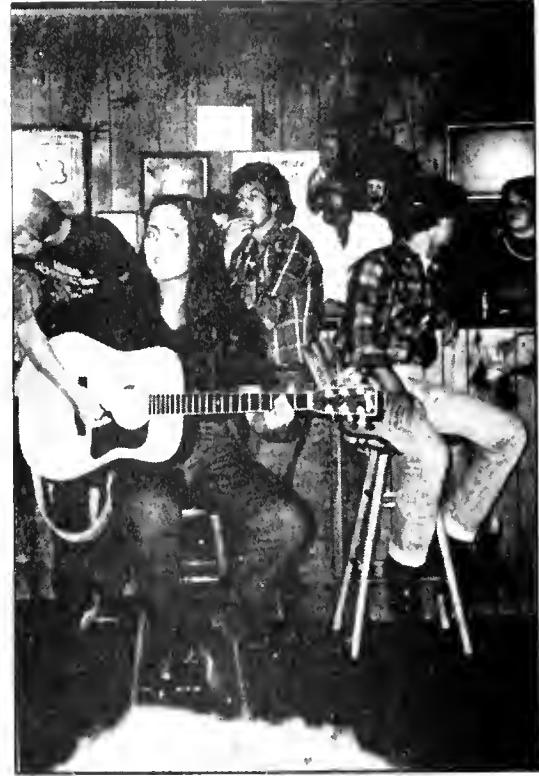

"Feelin' near as faded as my jeans."

"Say, can you guys play any New Wave?"

Amateur Night

"I think they're pretty warmed up . . .
pass Bruce's hat around."

Christmas Concert

"Those girls have our sheet music!"

One from the heart

"This is a good college, but these uniforms have to go!"

Honors Convocation

"First of all, I'd like to thank the academy . . ."

"And, now, the envelope, please."

SAT-IS-FAC-TION

A red letter day

"I Krazy-glued these two fingers together . . ."

Frisco or bust!

"Search me!"

"Knock, knock." "Who's there?"

Hands in Harmony

Gore Mountain Scenery—You'll never want to go home again.

Would you buy used skis from this man?

The "H-ette" Team

Gore Mountain

Ski Trip

Annual Mime Auditions

"Do we have to go back to St. Joe's?"

Now that's incognito!

The "H" Team

Ring Day

"I need a volunteer from the audience."

"Left foot, right foot; hay foot, straw foot . . ."

"Who is the Ivory girl!"

"Oh, I hope I don't blow it."

"Thank you, Sister"

The Clubs

Just as blades of beach grass cluster along the shoreline, so have we clustered, rooted firmly in the island sands, strong groups of sensitive and growing individuals. Together, we have multiplied our strength and made our lasting mark. Together, we have weathered the hard times. Together, we have shared the beach sunshine.

S. Pat Manning, Moderator

We would like to thank everyone who helped in making Horizons '83 possible. Our staff, contributors, faculty, administration, fellow students, and local community members have made the long hours of work bearable, and even enjoyable. Special thanks must be given to our faculty moderator, Sister Pat Manning, a woman whose strength, warmth, laughter, and know-how truly inspired every page of Horizons, and every day of our work on it. Words cannot express our gratitude for her support and friendship.
